ABSTRACT

At the moment computerization technology more bloom, so from that in a company at the moment be wanted a when a company not use computer system likely very difficult to compete with company other so much. Salary processing in company CV. Karya Dewa Teknik Bandung still done manually in the calculation and recording and security undercommunication from archivess, equally system of pay at company CV. Karya Dewa Teknik Bandung at the moment not yet good. So from that with be maked it this information system is author hope to company CV. Karya Dewa Teknik Bandung can better in do the employee payroll information system.

In this payroll information system planning is author uses descriptive method. with do observation, data collecting and describe event that in place watchfulness. while system development method that used author prototipe. Besides also use netbeans ide 6.9.1 as the programming language and MySQL as the database.

End result from this watchfulness builds a payroll application in company CV. Karya Dewa Teknik Bandung that functioned to help part finance in do salary calculation so that corrected and accurate also can to give information to all employees and leader.

Keyword : information system, payroll, payroll information system