ABSTRACT

This final task is to explain about making of registration information system in UPT. PUSKESMAS Ujungberung Indah, Bandung City. This UPT. PUSKESMAS, as a center for people health, that is one of public service instrument, that acts in health field of course needs accurate and reliable information system to increase service for users and related area.

Writer in composing this Final Task uses descriptive research method namely a method of data collecting by observation, interview, and the method of developing its system uses Prototype. Writer gets the data of this observation by collecting various references that support making information system like information and theory about programming that used for making information system, in this case is Visual Basic 6.0 and SQL IS servers 2000.

This information system will effectivate performance and efficient time in registration processes. Sothat it can enlarge patient registration and optimize performance of its human resource, and helping give information for UPT. PUSKESMAS itself specially and for patient who seeks a doctor generally.

Keyword : registration, patient, UPT.PUSKESMAS