ABSTRACT

Advancement in information technology and communications today has an effect on the development of data transmission with the development of information technology allows to process a fast forwarding of information as well irrelevant.

CV.Golden Exchanger is a company engaged in trading foreign exchange is not commonly known bank or money changer, in addition to trade and CV.Golden Exchangers also provide information on foreign exchange of accurate and reliable. In the delivery of foreign exchange price information, has several limitations. Therefore especially the information system needs information system Web-based foreign exchange trading at CV.Golden Exchanger as a tool deemed absolutely necessary and can provide efficient and effective level is higher.

In this final project, writer use the observation technique is systematic observation of the object of research so as to produce an outcome that objective. Moreover, I also use a technique that is with question and answer interviews conducted with resource persons, Mr Awan Ariawan as company managers. The author also conducted research using the library in order to better understand the problem faced through reference books and literature as a reference in completion problem while for software that is built this website using PHP software and Macromedia Dreamwaver and MYSQL Database.

Keywords : foreign exchange, observation, web