ABSTRACT

Gay self-concept in Padasuka Bandung

(Phenomenology Gay self-concept in Padasuka Bandung)

Editors :

Dwi Asri Yuliana

NIM. 41807105

The research is under guidance of :

Yadi Supriadi, S.Sos,.M.Phil

*This study intends to find out the Gay Self-concept in Padasuka Bandung. The purpose of this research is to find gay interpret him as a gay, how significant other gay and interpret the reference group and to learn about the concept of self Padasuka gay in Bandung.

This study uses the approach to the informant, amounting kualitatif 3 people. Data were obtained through in-depth interviews, observation, library research, and internet searching. The data analysis techniques used are data reduction, data collection, data representation, inference and evaluation.

This study uses a phenomenological approach to the study. That supposed to be researchers into the gay world without bringing any kind of perception, see for yourself how a real gay life. And requires the researcher to be part of the gay community. Then researchers came out of the community and explain how gay life really are.

The results showed that the concept of self in the gay Padasuka Bandung influenced by the environment, views of other significant attitude and reference group can affect self-concept is a gay. Rio informant sees it self as a good gay and can not interfere of public. Suggestions researchers give is for a gay to immediately stop the romantic activity in public. Not to mention the social sanctions that must be received from the public because of this behavior. And to peers that are not easily influenced by social environment. And for the next research immendeiatlly prefere more than anything about fenomenology.