ABSTRACT

Sanusi, Supardi and Soegiharto Public Accountant at Cikawao 40 Bandung 40216 phone number (022) 5940847. At the time of audit clients, KAP Sanusi, Supardi & Soegiharto created Working Paper Examination using Microsoft Excel software. Working paper examination paper consists of ICQ, supporting schedule, top schedule, confirmation of accounts receivable, accounts receivable summary of the results confirm, and the cut-off sales for the examination of accounts receivable. To these problems the authors take the title "Design Information Systems Examination in Public Accounting Receivables Sanusi, Supardi & Soegiharto using web-based PHP applications with database design mysql.

The design of writing the author used is Descriptive Analysis of the research design, types of research that writer used is the kind of basic research, the kind of writing that authors use the data is quantitative data type, the writers use the research methods are research methods eksploratories and descriptive research, data collection techniques that authors use the technique of collecting field study consisted of interviews, observation and library research, method development system that I use is a process-oriented methods, data and output. The structure of system development that writer used is waterfall. Design the information system used is the context diagram, data flow diagrams, data dictionary, flowchart, normalization and ERD.

Application program checks receivable information system design is expected to manage the data of existing data on the client so that it can generate output to a computerized audit reports.

Keywords: Information Systems, Receivables Checkout, PHP and MySQL Database Applications