ABSTRACT

Restaurant Tulang Jambal represent an effort Bandung kuliner which active in sale of food and beverage, Where at this restaurant of typical menu which given is processed bread jambal fish in such a manner so that can be presented attractively. Hence intention of Application sale scheme at this Restaurant Tulang Jambal, to know how Restaurant Tulang Jambal application scheme and to do implementation from the Application Restaurant Tulang Jambal. From result of this research will give an Application Restaurant Tulang Jambal to be transaction data and management of report can be managed better.

Method which is used in making of this Application Restaurant Tulang Jambal and this skripsi report compiler is data collecting method (Data Gathering), interview method, observation, system analysis, design and implementation. Method System Development used by writer in this Information System scheme that is using Model Prototyping, Prototyping represent one of the software development method which used many. In applying device which have in making, in requiring some software to make Restaurant Tulang Jambal application program that is Java Netbeands IDE 6.8.1 and Mysql.

Result of which wish to be reached by is an Restaurant Tulang Jambal application able to water down in management of sale report. Like existence of depository automatically in database

Keyword: Restaurant Tulang Jambal, Method, Sale