ABSTRACT

KapukValley is a Community Networking engaged in the services file sharing or sharing of files, but it also serves KapukValley rental services internet connection. In the delivery of information and file, has some limitations. Hence the need for particular information system information system web based File Sharing on KapukValley as aids, considered absolutely necessary and can provide a level of efficiency and effectiveness is higher.

In Thesis writing, writer use the observation technique is systematic observation of the object of research to produce an objective result. Moreover, the authors also use a technique that is with question and answer interview conducted with guest speaker, Mr. Denny Rustan, S. Kom as the Administrator. The author also conducts research using literature study in order to better understand the problems faced through reference books and literature as a reference in the resolution of the problem while the software is web built this using PHP and Macromedia software Dreamwaver and MYSQL Database.

With the media as well as the introduction of the intranet as a means of learning to improve knowledge and potential in the field of information technology and other scientific fields for the print community who have extensive skills and insights. To increase the effectiveness of time-sharing for files made between users of one another, was made a web which serves to convey information both in written form, pictures and video.

Keywords: file sharing, observation, web