ABSTRACT

Broken Home Adolescent Communication

(Phenomenological Study of Adolescent Communication Broken Home With Their Parents in* Bandung*)

Editors:

Sarah Siti Zakiah

NIM 41806122

This research under the guidance of,

Adiyana Slamet, S.IP., M.Si

This study intends to find out Broken Home Teenage Communication with parents in the city of Bandung. The purposes of this study are to determine the condition of families broken home, broken home adolescent self-concept, how children and parents interpret the importance of communication with the family, to know the social reality of adolescent broken home, as well as adolescent communication broken home with his parents in the city of Bandung.

This study used a qualitative approach with informants who were 8 (eight) people that obtained through indepth interviews, observation, literature study, Internet searching, and triangulation. The data analysis techniques used are data reduction, data collection, data presentation, drawing conclusions, and evaluation.

*The result showed that the condition of families broken home is a condition that is not harmonious family, not such as a family that in harmonious, peaceful, and prosperous condition. Self concept of adolescents broken home shows that they behave in accordance with the assessment of themselves, namely teenagers who came from families not in harmonious condition. In addition, teen broken home and parents realize the importance of communication in families, but in fact it can not be realized.

From the results of this study concluded that communication between adolescents broken home with his parents is not going well and effectively. This can be seen from the intensity of face-to-face communication and they are minimal and also the quality of inadequate communication.

Suggestions given are both teenagers and parents are expected to better understand what should be said and done in accordance with their respective roles with reference to the other person's viewpoint.