LEGAL VIEW ABOUT INTERNET USER DATA ACOUNT TAPPING WITH COMPUTER MONITORING ACTIVITY CONNECTED WITH UNDANG-UNDANG NUMBER 11 YEAR 2008 ABOUT INFORMATION AND ELECTRONIC TRANSACTION

By :

Firman Nurochmansyah

Abstract

Development of sience and technology which is present fast enough has become everyday realita even was public demand which cannot be bargained again. Purpose of main development of sience and technology is life change of man future towards better, with based on at everyday activity supporting facilities of which is easy, cheap, quickly and safe. Development of sience and technology, especially information technology like internet hardly supports each and everyone to reach purpose of its the life is in a short time. With supporting facilities for telecommunication like a real internet popular at the moment hence one can communicates or releates to other without having to looks in the face directly. The thing exploited by the internet consumers as activity supporting facilities oen day like looking for information, communicate finite long distance of buissnes transaction. Along its the development, information at internet ntework in the form of the exisitng intenet consumer person data has become a real important commodity and had economic value so that often information which in the form of person data shall only be accessed by certain people. The fall of the infromation to other party hand can generate loss for owner of information. One of way applied to get the person data that is by doing internet consumer person data tapping through computer activity monitoring. Condition of like this causes incidence of a problems about how Undang-Undang number 11 Year 2008 About Informatin and Electronic Transaction arranges about internet consumers person data tapping through computer activity monitoring and constraints any kind of faced in process of straightening of law to consumer person data tapping internet through activity monitoring.

Research done by the Writerto have the caracter of descriptive analyticalness by using approach method in yuridis normatif. Data result of research is analysed in qualitative yuridis, where law and regulation which one may not be against other law and regulation, and pays attnetion to law and regulation hierarcy and guarantees rule of law.

Internet consumer person data tapping through computer activity monitoring in general have been arranged in section 31 sentences (1) and sentence (2) Undang-Undang Number 11 Year 2008 About Information and Electronic Transaction. While about the sanctions arranged in Section 47 Undang-Undang Number 11 Year 2008 About Information and Electronic Transaction though in its the execution still there are some constraints between it, from ability side of investigator and from ability side forensic computer where both the things has not fully is mastered of owned by related the parties.