ABSTRACT

Pos PAUD Sekarwangi Cipageran Village North Cimahi on systems that run have problems regarding the calculation and data processing of financial administration is less effective. This study aims to find, create designs, and implements meguji Financial Administration Information System in the Post PAUD Sekarwangi Cipageran Village North Cimahi. Usefulness of this study consisted of practical usefulness and usability of academic.

The method used is descriptive method with approach to the case of Post PAUD Sekarwangi Cipageran Village North Cimahi. System development method used by the author Waterfall method. The software used in this study is the Microsoft Windows XP as the OS (Operating System). The database server is running Microsoft SQL 2000 and Finance Administration information system using Visual Basic 6.0 programming language.

From the results of this study concluded that computerization is needed and preparing reports on the process of financial administration. With this application program all the data concerned with financial administration activities can be maintained as well as the effectiveness and efficiency can be achieved with a good time. With the application program that comes with a password, the need to enhance control and security data more secure because not everyone has the right to access data or data changes.

Keywords: Research Objectives, Waterfall, Financial Administration