ABSTRACT

Building E-Commerce Application At Uncut Distro In Bandung

by

Ardi Nugraha Tadjudin
10106419

Uncut distro is a company engaged in the sale of apparel products which have a limited stock in the manufacturing production, based of information from observation and interview in uncrut distro bandung the problems that company have is lack of payment way whose couse the difficulty in transaction process against the consumer from outside Bandung, another problem that the company have is not well structured in data processing and report generation, so it make difficult when data processing and report generation.

The analysis method used in the development of e-commerce website at uncut distro Bandung based on structured method that using tools used is ERD (Entity Relantionship Diagram) and DFD (Data Flow Diagram). While programming language used to made this application is PHP and for the database used MySQL with assisted tools use Adobe Dreamweaver and XAMPP.

Based test result alpha and beta, the development of this application can give the alternative solution against the problems that occur in the uncut distro, to facilitate the transaction process that come from outside Bandung, and to make data processing and report generation more easier.

Keyword : system sales, e-commerce, sales information technology, reservation and online payment.