ABSTRACT

POLDA JABAR a police organization that many areas of west java has a member in unity. Each member is given permission to use firearms in various type and size. The firearm is provided by the armory POLDA JABAR, the warehouse will be lent in accordance with the type of weapon that permits members, in which each member will be borrowing the firearm must have a Firearms Licence Holding, Certificate Examination of Psychology and Cards Members sign Police. Due to the many members who do the borrowing and the need for data collection members effectively and efficiently, then the armory POLDA JABAR requires an integrated information system to help facilitate the management of borrowing and return of firearms to members of the Polda JABAR, so that the management report of firearms in the warehouse POLDA JABAR will be more organized.

Systems approach used in this study is a structured approach. Structured approach to introducing the use of tools and techniques to develop a structured system. The prototype model, this method requires a systematic and sequential approach in software development in a short time, starting with identifying the needs of users, develop user requirements, using a prototype if it is used, if unused return to the stage of identifying the user's needs.

From the results of studies that have implemented the Information Systems Web-Based Loan and Returns to facilitate the processing of data, documentation, and membuatan reports in digital format on a database. Facilitate the flow of data and documents between Anggota, Bagian Gudang Senpi, Bagian Administrasi and Kepala Senpi.

Keyword : Information system, POLDA JABAR, weapon