ABSTRAK

Parkway Health ™ Bandung is a Healthcare Company that has problems with the data processing and cooperation making reports that are not well organized. In this research actually to find, making the design, test and implement Information Systems Patient Data and Doctor's data at the Parkway Health ™ Bandung. Usefulness this study consisted of practical usefulness and usability of academic.

Method used is descriptive method with approach of case Parkway Health™ Bandung. The software used in this study are Microsoft Windows XP Professional SP as OS / Operating System database server used is Microsoft's database server is SQL Server 2000 and Investors information system using Visual Basic 6.0 programming language.

From the results of this study concluded that the Computerization and Reporting is necessary to process patient data processing and Doctor's data , With this application program all the data concerned with the activities of patients can be more effectively and efficiently.

Key: Information System Service, Patient Data, Doctor's Data