ABSTRACT

CV Mitra Tani Sedaya is a company that move in agriculture which provide pesticide products and multifunction fertilizer,it has to be certain that it needs intelligence and accurate information system that sufficiency to increase the service to consumers .information system is one of the most important part to well manage and run company activities.it is information system that have many kinds of function in selling and buying process,there for it needs information system that can handle it effectively and take in hand problems in CV Mitra Tani Sedaya especially in selling and buying process. The purpose of this research is helping selling and buying process so that it can support to data processing and choosing input good commodities data.

Refers to the present problems,the research mtehod is aggregation data,development system method.aggregtion data is done by observe and interview.development system method is done by prototype method.the design method will be described in flowmap, context diagram,flow diagram, and dictionary data and to describe the planning,the data base will be sketched in normalization form, table of relations, entitiy-relationship diagram (ERD).the making of this selling and buying information system uses visual basic program 6.0 and for the database, it uses SQL server 2000.

By using the selling and buying the data searching will be more effective and efficient,so it can support the development of selling and buying information system in CV Mitra Tani Sedaya.

Keywords : selling,buying,microsoft visual Basic 6.0 ,SQL Server 2000.