This study intends to find out the concept of student self-smokers in the city of Bandung. The purpose of this research is to determine the student smokers interpret its self as a smoker in the city of Bandung. To find out how others interpret siginificant student smokers in the city of Bandung, how to interpret student reference groups of smokers in the city of Bandung, and to know the concept of student self-smokers in the city of Bandung,

This study used a qualitative approach with the phenomenological method, informants are used in this study amounted to 9 (nine). Data obtained through in-depth interviews, observation, library research, internet searching, documentation. The data analysis techniques used are data reduction, data collection, data presentation, drawing conclusions, and evaluasi.dan test the validity of data through the extension of the observation, increasing persistence, triangulation, discussions with colleagues,. Membercheck.analisis negative cases

The results showed that student smokers interpret its self as a smoker that is the view that women smokers among female students is something that is reasonable and is commonly done. Significant others interpret the student smokers are no parents who want their children to smoke, but because the situation they were forced to let his condition. Reference groups interpret a student smoker that is specific to the peers who they viewed women smokers were regular smokers only and are reasonable in doing because they also is a smoker, while peers who are not smokers see smokers among female college student smoking behavior is in fact not a way to solve the problem

The results can be concluded that the concept of student self-smokers is influenced by significant others and reference groups, view the attitude of significant others and reference groups can influence self concept of student smokers. Self-concept on student smokers tend to still view negative, although in fact not all the smokers were naughty or bad is evident from the two subjects the researchers even though they are a smoker but they do not smoke in any place other than that they have achievements in academic and non academic

The advice can give is for women researchers in the college student smokers smoking should reduce its activity because it is not good for health, and for the parents should tmemberikan a good example by not smoking in front of children, and to friends of peers that are not easily affected by environmental association
