Indonesia Air Force is part of The Indonesian Armed Force who served in the air dimensions. But due the embargo and lack of budget and personnel readinees of the defense to make the main tool weapon System of the Indonesia air force was minimal. Based on the problem, formulated the problem as " How the Influence of Indonesian – Russiaan Military Cooperation Against the Progress of Indonesia Air Force Strength (years 2003-2010) ?"

As reference on problem of research, it is proposed some theories and concepts such as International Relations, Foreign Policy, International Cooperation, The concept of influence, International Politics, Threats and Security Concept, Self military of Indonesian Armed Force, Military, and the view of realism. The research methodology used in this research is a Descriptive Analytical method, namely, a method illustrating facts and situation based on one data with another data based on used theories and concepts, so that it will be made a hypothesis as follow "Indonesian Military Cooperation - Russia (2003-2010) influential in increasing the power of the Indonesian Air Force, it is characterized by the development of defense equipment and training provided so that the quality and quantity of the Russian Air Force fleet increased".

Based on data acquisition and processing, from the hypothesis above it tested that Indonesian Military Cooperation - Russia has influence in increasing the strength of the Indonesian Air Force, especially the increase in technical capability of personnel and amount of defense equipment, but the Indonesian Military Cooperation - Russia does not give a significant influence on the TNI-AU force, because the addition Alutsista still below the ideal standard Indonesia's defense needs.
