ABSTRACT

Luiza Moniz da Conceicao Faria, 44306032, "Role of The United Nations High Commission for Refugees (UNHCR) in The Handing of Timor Timur in Indonesia After The 1999 Referendum (a Case Study of Refugees in NTT)" The Dicipline Program Sciences, of International Relations Department, Faculty of Social and Policitacal Sciences, University of Computer Indonesia, Bandung. 2011.

Refugees is the one of international issue, when that involving more than one country. Cooperation among nations is needed in order to accomplish refugees issues. One of the implementation of UNHCR was that organization gave assistances to thousands of refugees from East Timor pasca referendum 1999 in West Timor, Indonesia.

Hypothesis of this Thesis is : since United Nation High Commission of Refugees (UNHCR) take a handle refugees in West Timor whose come from East Timor, that organization has give an assistances to help refugees come back home to East Timor, relocation refugees to the new location, developing temporer camp, meanwhile recover level of life and prosperity of refugees also accomplish the children problems whose separated with their parents, by relocation those children to the social home Nusa Tenggara Timor in Indonesia". Researcher use qualitative method through library study and field research, then the conclusion that UNHCR has been relief the basic of problem of the refugees ex Timor in West Timor, Indonesia by Program of five's side Strategy.

Through qualitative research methods literature and field research studies, researchers concluded that the United Nations High Commission for Refugees (UNHCR) has helped many fundamental problems of the former East Timorese refugee problem in NTT, Indonesia through a program of five strategies that direction.

The conclusion is UNHCR has been give significant progress to handle refugees problem in West Timor, Indonesia period 1999 – 2005.

Keyword: UNHCR, Refugees