ABSTRACT

Anggie Chintamy Tanjung, NIM 44305009, Role of the Australian Agency for International Development (AusAID) through the Australian Development Scholarships (ADS) in Improve the Quality of Educators in Eastern Indonesia (Case study Province of Papua : 2005 - 2009). Department of International Relation Sciences, Faculty of Social and Political Sciences, Indonesia Computer University, Bandung 2011.

This research on the role of AusAID in improve the quality of educators through the ADS scholarship program in Papua Province, the period from 2005 to 2009. ADS role in improve the quality of education in the province of Papua through the implementation of three categories of scholarships are ADS Public, ADS Open, and ADS Targeted. With the increasing quality of education it will assist the Government of Indonesia in improve the quality and governance of education systems in national development.

Methods and research techniques used in this study is qualitative methods and study literature, where by using this method a hypothesis can be taken to identify those problems, the hypothesis is "The Australian Agency for International Development (AusAID) Role In Improve Quality of Educators in Eastern Region Indonesian province of Papua in particular through application of three categories Australian Development Scholarships (ADS) ADS Public, Open ADS, and ADS targeted ".

Test results in this study suggests that the Australian Agency for International Development (AusAID) through the Australian Development Scholarships (ADS) by the application of three categories of scholarships offered has been instrumental in improve the quality of education in the province of Papua.

Key words: Australian Agency for International Development (AusAID), Australian Development Scholarship (ADS), Quality of Educators in Eastern Indonesia