ABSTRACT

Management commitment is defined as engaging in and maintaining other behaviors to help achieve the goal while, SIDJP an information system in the administration of taxation in a modern office environment DJP by using hardware and software that is connected to a network at headquarters. SIDJP approach can be assessed with Business Intelligence System is an organized and systematic process by which organizations acquire, analyze, and disseminate information of significant internal and external to their business activities and for decision making.

The method used in this research is descriptive and verification method. To find out influence in this research used statistical tests. Simple Linear regression, the test statistic used is the calculation of Person Product Moment correlation, coefficient of determination, hypothesis test using the software SPSS 14.0 for windows.

Based on the results of testing known that, the closeness of the relationship between commitment management and implementation (SIDJP) With BIS Approach At Small Taxpayers Office Bandung (Pearson correlation) of 0.624 and its influence on the implementation of (SIDJP) With (BIS) Approach At Small Taxpayers Office Bandung (coefficient of determination) of 38.9%.

Keywords: Commitment Management, Information Systems In Direktorat Jenderal Pajak, Business Intelligence System