ABSTRACT

POLICY IMPLEMENTATION
FAMILY PLANNING INFORMATION SYSTEMS (SITIKENCANA)
BOARD TO EMPOWER WOMEN AND FAMILY PLANNING (BPPKB)
BANDUNG CITY

The development of e-government currently requires a system that can support various activities of government officers in carrying out its duties and functions, Progress of e-government has great potential to be used in government activities. E-government can be utilized to assist government agencies in processing data and managing information better. So that the implementation of policies concerning SITIKENCANA made BPPKB Bandung, the data processing aimed to Recording and Reporting of family planning in the city of Bandung. Constraints faced in implementing e-government through SITIKENCANA in BPPKB Bandung period should not excuse a government delay in implementing e-government.

The theory used is the Implementing Policy is raised by Edward III in the book Implementing Public Policy. Based on the theory to achieve the implementation of the policy views of Communication, Resources, dispositions, and Bureaucratic Structure affecting the implementation process directly or indirectly, through their interactions with each other.

The research method used is descriptive research method with qualitative approaches. Mechanical determination of informants using purposive technique. The data collection technique is observation, book study and interview. Data analysis technique used is descriptive qualitative which includes data collection, data display and decision-making and verification.

The results showed that the Policy Implementation BPPKB SITIKENCANA in Bandung which is determined by the communication of policies SITIKENCANA is good, it can be viewed from the communication process was straightforward from the apparatus BPPKB Bandung District small hole directly into the apparatus. Resources well enough, it can be seen from the still existing apparatus BPPKB Bandung that are not expert in computerized. Can be said to have a good disposition, realized by way of enforcing discipline, friendliness and politeness. Bureaucratic structure is good, it can be seen from the personnel in charge of the bureaucratic structure is in conformity with their respective duties.