ABSTRACT

At national company Perum Jasa Tirta II (PJT II) Dam Division, JL.Lengkong Besar Bandung, the manner of processing receiving and releasing data of their goods still using Microsoft Excel 2007 and the report still using a simple form which has made before. The aim of this final exam is to get a sophisticated application program by using a developing programming language.

The data got by an examination in company, by an interview to employees at Dam Division Storehouse. The system of receiving and releasing goods consisted of the order of goods, system of receiving goods and the releasing goods. In addition this system could give informations of ordering goods to storehouse from each departments.

Result who showed in this final exam is an application for data processing receiving and releasing goods which made by programming language JAVA using Netbeans IDE 6.7. as developing software and MYSQL as a database system. Result of this application program could give an useful benefit.

Keywords : receiving, releasing, PJT II, Netbeans IDE 6.7.1