ABSTRACT

This research is entitled "Non-restrictive appositive noun phrases in the Mitch Albom's and Beverly Clearly's novels"; this research discusses the non-restictive apposition of noun phrases and the elements of what are contained in the non-restictive apposition and the formation of the meanings that show relations between non-restictive apposition phrases and the noun phrases. In this research, there are 42 data found; the data were classified based on the structure of the non-restrictive phrases apposition. The appositive noun phrases do not always have a function or the clases of noun phrase. The method used is descriptive analytical method, which discribes facts and analyzes the syntactic analysis of the appositions through a semantic approach. Non-restrictive phrases apposition nouns have an additional role of information in the next phrase. Phrases of non-restrictive appositive are always side by side.

Keyword : non-restrictive aposition, phrase, noun