CHAPTER IV

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

4.1. Conclusion

Reviewing a book becomes one of the important things for us. It is not only for the educational field but also for other fields, such as entertainment, advertising, etc. In fact, making a book review is not easy to do, because of that we need some strategies to be applied. Based on the experience, the present writer divides the strategies in reviewing book into two main points: reading and writing strategy.

Various benefits can be gained from reviewing a book. Such as, the present writer can improve the skimming skill, the knowledge about book review, and gain some new vocabularies.

4.2. Suggestion

. After finishing the research, the present writer have some suggestions for the students who will take the research of book review. The students are suggested to use another method to review the book to gain comprehensive review. As a matter of fact, there is more interesting material for a review; that is to review a movie. Not only the reading and writing strategy the student can use the listening strategy.