CHAPTER IV

CONCLUSION AND SUGESTION

In this chapter explains about the conclusion of this report and the suggestion for the company, the faculty, and the students who do the job training.

4.1. Conclusion

In the job training process the writer was assigned as an editor of Letter Post Manual. The writer found the grammatical mistake and inappropriate choice of words in the Letter Post Manual. The writer's job was to make sure that there are no grammatical mistake and inappropiate choie of words. So that the text more communicative and more informative.

The mistake is mainly caused by the influence of French language. The Post Manual is originally from French, thus there are some French structure and words that influence the Post Manual.

4.2. Suggestion

4.2.1. To the company

The writer suggests to the division of international relation make sure that the Letter Post Manual give the information more communicative language to the reader. So the reader can immediate to access off all the information.

4.2.2. to the faculty

The writer suggests that the faculty should give references about place where the student can the Job Training.

4.2.3. to the student

The writer suggests to the student who do the job training to search more information about the company that accept job trainer and more responsible for the job given.