Abstract

Panji Nugroho, Research Design in the Digital Imaging pre wedding CV. Humanika (advisor by Wantoro, S. Ds)

Digital imaging is the photo editing process by converting the images into appropriatesuch as the desire or need. An example is the changing backgrounds, changing lighting,giving effect to the object image or photo so that the images produced in accordance with the objectives to be achieved.

Designing the Digital Imaging pre weddding in CV Humanika scope specializes in the field of photography, digital imaging, graphic design, corporate identity, advertising, packaging design and website creation. In the analysis of the data using descriptivemethod of describing the language as it is.

The discussion in this study includes a discussion of the way - a way or process of editing pre-wedding photos are choosing a particular theme. In this pre wedding Victorian themed , so that in the search and selection of good pictures that background staining and illumination for for the purpose of editing is reached then tailored to the theme of the Victorian pre-wedding.