CHAPTER IV

CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

The present writer will explain about the conclusion and suggestion after conducting the job training report.

4.1 Conclusions

After conducting the job training as marketing tour at PT. Dago Wisata Internasional, the present writer found several data from tour and travel terminology which relate to abbreviations. Mostly, the data goes into the initialism but there are also several which are going into acronym. The same goes with International Organization of Tour and Travel, the data also mostly into the initialism. The function of using abbreviations is to more communicative, frugal the word and more intellect.

Also the present writer learn from the job training about terminology used in the tour and travel at once with the meaning.

4.2 Suggestions

During conducting the job training and the job training report, the present writer has several suggestions:

1. To the next researcher, he should look for the data which belong into the other types of abbreviations.
2. Before conducting the job training, the English Department should explain detail information about what will happen during its practice and doing the job training report.
3. To those who conduct the job training, expected to complete the required documents for the requirements the job training report when do it.
