CHAPTER IV

CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

4.1. Conclusions

Slang terms have been used by people a long time ago in British and American. Also, still so many people use this terms in conversation daily life nowadays. These slang terms have some vulgar words and primarily been used in oral communication, when talking to a friend or classmate. Although, English slang terms are never taught at school especially in Indonesia, they are used widely by teenagers and adults.

Therefore, languages will continue to evolve from time to time. As well with the slang terms, abbreviation, acronym and the internet slang. In fact, technology has became an essential part of today's world. New words or languages that created on the internet can be found easily, such as the slang terms and internet slang. However, the problem is when and how we can use that slang terms in order to get being misunderstood.

Thus as the conclusion, language and English slang terms will never stop evolving. As long as the people still lives in this world and they are still using language as the communication tools. It is also depends on their culture and where they came from. Yet in Indonesia, the using of English slang terms should be more be careful. Because not many Indonesian people are find out about the slang terms in English.

4.2 Suggestions

There are some suggestions for English Department. First, I hope The English Department should give the students more time to do for job training. It is in order to get more experience and the lessons for the students. Then, the students who take the job training should have more responsible in manage their company or their job.

The writer expects that this suggestion will be approved on the future. So, the next students who will take the job training will get more lessons, benefits and experiences about the job training.