CHAPTER III

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

3.1 Conclusion

After finishing the research, the writer concludes that every word in a sentence has some meanings behind that. So, to make a sentence more clearly, we have to find out the actual meaning. One of the ways to seek the meaning from a sentence is by identifying an argument and an action. Through this way, we can understand more about meaning of a sentence. The writer also concludes that in every sentence we make, there is an argument and an action with different roles, where each of them has different function.

3.2 Suggestion

There are some suggestions for student to analyze arguments and actions in sentences, as follows:

1. The students have to find data to analyze.
2. The students have to know about arguments and actions in semantic role theory.

3. The students have to explain one by one any arguments and actions in a sentence.
